SHRI. DIGAMBAR KAMAT

PWD Minister,
Minister for Captain of Ports

MESSAGE

It was during my tenure as the Chief Minister of Goa that the Ravindra Bhavan, Margao a cultural centre envisioned to serve the people of South Goa, was inaugurated. Recognizing the need for a space that would nurture and celebrate this cultural vibrancy, we laid the foundation of what has now become one of Goa's finest institutions.

With this state-of-the-art auditorium, named in honour of Shri Pai Tiatrist a distinguished writer of the 1960s, we have fulfilled a long-cherished dream of the people of South Goa. The recent renovation has been completed in a record time of just three months, made possible through the collective efforts and unwavering support of our Hon'ble Chief Minister and the entire dedicated team.

As we reopen the doors of Ravindra Bhavan to the public today, I extend my heartfelt congratulations and best wishes to all theatre artists, performers, and art lovers. May you make the best use of these facilities to continue nurturing creativity and preserving the glorious cultural heritage of Margao, the cultural capital of Goa, and of South Goa as a whole.

Let this Bhavan continue to stand as a beacon of art, literature, and performance, inspiring the generations to come.

FOREWORD

Goa has always been known for its rich cultural heritage, and Margao has long been regarded as the cultural capital of the state. Many stalwarts from Margao and across Goa have made significant contributions to Indian art and culture, working tirelessly to preserve and enrich our artistic traditions in every form.

In recent years, Margao has witnessed remarkable cultural growth. Today, nearly 2,839 students are actively learning various forms of performing arts. The city is home to around 20 institutions & 81 Teachers, dedicated to training young learners in diverse artistic disciplines including Bharatanatyam, Kathak, and instrumental music such as tabla, harmonium, sitar, violin, piano, and keyboard. Many are also being trained in both Indian classical and Western styles of vocal music.

To make this wealth of cultural activity more accessible to the public especially parents and students from Margao, Fatorda, Navelim we decided to compile a Directory of Performing Arts Institutions. This directory aims to serve as a valuable guide for anyone seeking information about the various institutions and teachers who are passionately nurturing young talent in the performing arts.

At this stage, we have included comprehensive data from institutions in Margao, Fatorda, and Navelim, covering essential details such as contact numbers, email addresses, and locations. We plan to expand this directory in the future to include institutions from other parts of Goa as well.

We are confident that this initiative will be of great help to parents and students, making it easier to find suitable institutions and simplifying the process of admission. Moreover, we believe that learning any form of performing art will play an increasingly vital role in helping individuals manage stress and find creative fulfillment in today's fast-paced digital world.

I extend my sincere gratitude to all the staff members of Ravindra Bhavan, as well as to the various institutions and teachers who have shared their information and supported this initiative. Your dedication and hard work have made this directory possible and continue to inspire the next generation of Goan artists.

Thank you.
